

Strenuus, Now Zelis Network Analytics, Selected as a 2017 Inc. Best Workplaces Honoree

BEDMINSTER, NJ and ATLANTA, GA – [July 17, 2017] Zelis Healthcare, a market-leading healthcare information technology company, is pleased to announce that Strenuus, now Zelis Network Analytics, has earned a spot on Inc's Best Workplaces list. Zelis acquired Strenuus in March, 2017.

Strenuus, a healthcare information technology company focused on providing clients actionable data as part of an end-to-end provider network solution, has been named one of Inc. magazine's Best Workplaces for 2017, the publication's second annual ranking in the fast-growing private company sector. The ranking honors companies that raise the bar in hiring and retaining the best talent.

"Strenuus nurtures an environment in which people experience how their jobs impact clients in real and positive ways. They are emboldened to take measured risks and find creative solutions to client problems," said Matthew Mellor, Executive Vice President of Innovation. "With our employee-friendly environment we are a place where people want a career, not just a job."

What does it take to make the Best Workplaces list? Companies were assessed through an employee-engagement survey to determine how they rated in career development, communications, trust in leadership, team dynamics, and individual needs. Honorees were selected from an application pool of over 1600 companies.

"We're delighted that Strenuus has been selected as a Best Workplace Honoree," said Tina Ellex, President of Zelis Network Solutions. "We are proud that Zelis offers all employees an extraordinary work environment built on core values that include innovation, integrity, and client focus."
